The Four Directions were given to Mankind as a way to aid finding balance within and with the Earth. For, without balance there is chaos and generally isn't a good path. The Four Directions, being the points of the compass and each having a corresponding colour and totem spirit: O-za-wahn' (yellow) for the East, Mis-skwa' (red) for the South, Muk-a-day (black) for the West, and Wa-bish-ka' (white) for the North – Ojibwe Elder.
